

Warm-up: Describe your picture! (A)

 Don't show your picture to your partner!

Wie du den QR-Code scannen kannst

Öffne die Kamera-App auf deinem iPhone und scanne den Code damit. Für Android suche im Play Store nach „QR Code Secuso“. Diese App ist kostenlos und datenschutzfreundlich.
Viel Erfolg!

- ① Have a close look at your picture!
- ② Go together with a partner (with a different coloured sheet) and tell each other about your picture:
 - Describe what you can see in the picture. Pay attention to people, objects, colours and symbols.
 - Describe and explain the atmosphere of the picture. What are these people feeling?
 - Speculate about the event that is shown in the picture.

→ Use at least three words/phrases from the box!

In the picture, there is/are...

(to) hug someone – jemanden umarmen

(to) celebrate

(to) commemorate

(to) apologise

touching (rührend/bewegend)

exciting

emotional

happy

sad

Warm-up: Describe your picture! (B) ✨

👤 Don't show your picture to your partner!

Wie du den QR-Code scannen kannst

Öffne die Kamera-App auf deinem iPhone und scanne den Code damit. Für Android suche im Play Store nach „QR Code Secuso“. Diese App ist kostenlos und datenschutzfreundlich.
Viel Erfolg!

- ① Have a close look at your picture!
- ② Go together with a partner (with a different coloured sheet) and tell each other about your picture:
 - Describe what you can see in the picture. Pay attention to people, objects, colours and symbols.
 - Describe and explain the atmosphere of the picture. What are these people feeling?
 - Speculate about the event that is shown in the picture.

→ Use at least three words/phrases from the box!

In the picture, there is/are...

(to) hug someone – jemanden umarmen

(to) celebrate

(to) commemorate

(to) apologise

touching (rührend/bewegend)

exciting

emotional

happy

sad

Name:

National Sorry Day vs. Australia Day

31.08.2022

National Sorry Day	Australia Day
The National Sorry Day is an unofficial bank holiday. It commemorates the victims of the racists policy by the Australian state and government which led to the "stolen generation". These were indigenous children who were taken away from their families to grow up without their aboriginal culture and language. This remembrance, next to the apology by Prime Minister Kevin Rudd in 2008, should be one step towards reconciliation.	The Australia Day is the national bank holiday of Australia. It is celebrated on 26th January and commemorates the landing of the first British settlers in Australia in 1788. The aim of a national bank holiday like the Australia Day is to unify a nation and to create identity. However, the Australian Day is quite controversial because the Aborigines call it the "Invasion Day".
 Match the words and the explanations. Fill in the translations.   <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (to) unify (a nation) ● (national) bank holiday ● reconciliation (to) reconcile s.o. with ● s.o. (to) commemorate ● indigenous (adj) ●   <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ The 3rd October is the national bank holiday of Germany (Reunification Day) ○ the opposite of „to divide“ ○ to show that you remember an important person or event by having a special ceremony ○ People who lived in a place for a very long time before other people came to live there. ○ When two people groups become friendly again after a fight disagreement.

Australia Day (26th January) – A suitable national day?

Imagine you are a non-indigenous Australian who really likes the Australia Day! You think the 26th January is a suitable national day and you want to convince the opponents of your opinion!

Task: Read the text. Find arguments for the following statement:

The Australia Day is a suitable (angemessen) national day and should be kept exactly as it is.

Try to include your knowledge about Australia and its society that you have gained during the previous lessons.

→ Write down keywords only on your index card (coloured sheet of paper).

→ Check the discussion phrases on the index card! You will need to use at least three of them!

12 minutes

Already finished? Try to come up with more arguments supporting your view. Expand your role!

Hier findest du die
benötigten Informa-
tionen.

My arguments for the statement: The Australia Day is a suitable national day and should be kept exactly as it is!

- ☐ I definitely agree with you but...
- ☐ I couldn't disagree more because...
- ☐ Let me explain my point of view...
- ☐ This is true but...
- ☐ Have you thought about the fact that...?
- ☐ I don't think you are right here because...

- ☐ (to) commemorate
- ☐ (to) celebrate
- ☐ (to) unify a nation
- ☐ national (bank) holiday
- ☐ (to) reconcile / reconciliation

Australia Day (26th January) – A suitable national day?

Imagine you are a non-indigenous Australian who rejects traditional Australia Day barbecues and events. You agree with the argumentation of the Aborigines and you dislike your national day! You want to convince other Australians that the Australia Day is not a suitable national day!

Task: Read the text. Find arguments for the following statement:

The Australia Day is not a suitable (angemessen) national day and should be changed.

Try to include your knowledge about Aborigines and their past which you have gained during the previous lessons.

→ Write down keywords only on your index card (coloured sheet of paper).

→ Check the discussion phrases on the index card! You will need to use at least three of them!

12 minutes

Already finished? Try to come up with more arguments supporting your view. Expand your role!

Hier findest du die
benötigten Informa-
tionen.

My arguments for the statement: The Australia Day is not a suitable national day and should be changed!

- ☐ I definitely agree with you but...
- ☐ I couldn't disagree more because...
- ☐ Let me explain my point of view...
- ☐ This is true but...
- ☐ Have you thought about the fact that...?
- ☐ I don't think you are right here because...

- ☐ (to) commemorate
- ☐ (to) celebrate
- ☐ (to) unify a nation
- ☐ national (bank) holiday
- ☐ (to) reconcile / reconciliation

Name:

National Sorry Day vs. Australia Day

31.08.2022

Post-Reading I: ROLE PLAY / Discussion

Task

- ① Go together in groups of 4/5.
- ② Simulate the conversation! Try to stick to your role!
- ③ Discuss the statement:
"Australia Day is a suitable national day!"
- ④ On your index card, tick (✓) the words/ discussion phrases your opponents have used!
Try to also use phrases you have already learned!

Aim: There should be no pause in your discussion! If you need help, have a look in the envelopes!

Post-Reading II

What is your personal opinion?

Can you come up with an alternative idea for a national bank holiday in Australia?

Name:

National Sorry Day vs. Australia Day

31.08.2022

Differenzierung für die leistungsschwächeren Schülerinnen und Schüler: (gleiche Farbe wie die index cards, Schnipsel in Briefumschlägen auf den Tischen)

We only want to celebrate! We don't really care what the background of the day is!

The day could be a chance to come together and celebrate today's Australia with all people! It's a chance to reconcile!

We have a right to celebrate the beginning of our nation!

The past should not dictate our future. We are all Australians, let's focus on that and not on what divides us.

We only want to celebrate! We don't really care what the background of the day is!

The day could be a chance to come together and celebrate today's Australia with all people! It's a chance to reconcile!

We have a right to celebrate the beginning of our nation!

The past should not dictate our future. We are all Australians, let's focus on that and not on what divides us.

Don't you understand that we feel discriminated against by the fact that you celebrate the arrival of those people who were responsible for our long story of suffering?

Why can't we change the day? You say you just want to celebrate! We could do that on any other day of the year!

To change the day would be a big step towards reconciliation!

Don't you understand that we feel discriminated against by the fact that you celebrate the arrival of those people who were responsible for our long story of suffering?

Why can't we change the day? You say you just want to celebrate! We could do that on any other day of the year!

To change the day would be a big step towards reconciliation!