

Support-and-Check-Station

- ① Need help finding the rule? No problem, use the support cards if you are having trouble!
- Have a look at support-card I first.
 - Should you still have trouble, use support-card II to help you out!
- ② Found the rule? Great! Use the support-cards to check yourself!
- Have a look at support-card I first.
 - Use support-card II to make completely sure you found the right meaning of the different forms!
 - In case you missed something writing down the rule, make sure you add important aspects to your solution!

Tandem-Practice-Station

Work together with your partner.
One of you is partner A, the other is B.

1) Do the Speaking-Tandem first.

- Read the instructions on the worksheets carefully before you start. Partner A begins. Give each other enough time and let your partner try before you give each other the solutions.

2) Now, do the Writing-Tandem.

- Again, read the instructions on the worksheets carefully before you start. Take some time to write your sentences on your own. After that, compare your results. Again, give each other enough time and let your partner try before you give each other the solutions.

Done with everything? Good job! Find another couple and, as a group, start playing the Expert-Extra!
Have fun!

Bus Station

Wait here until some one else comes over. Then team up and get started with the following...

- 1) First, check with your partner whether you have understood the grammar correctly. Then, try and formulate a rule together. Consider function and form!
- 2) Go over to the Support-and-Check-Station to either get tips for formulating the rule or to check what you have worked out together. Follow the instructions on the Support-and-Check-Station sign!
- 3) Go over to the Tandem-Practice-Station together. There, you will get some practice of using the new grammar. Simply follow the instructions on the Tandem-Practice sign!

You are done with everything? Well done! The Tandem-Practice-Station will tell you what to do!
